The Gantt chart displays the schedule for the 2019-2020 season, organized by month (September, October, November) and day of the week (labeled at the top: l, m, m, j, v, s, d). The chart is divided into three main sections: September, October, and November. The top section shows a series of horizontal bars representing different activities, with colors indicating different types of activities (green, orange, red, blue). The bottom section shows a vertical bar representing a single activity (blue).
